Glad Cambridge is expanding it's reach and getting involved in an international conflict. I mean there's nothing important going on in Cambridge like everyone getting priced out or anything....

- Do you care about the ethical use of technology?
- Are you a Jew who believes that Palestinians should be treated humanely?
- Do you care about Cambridge's long history of standing on the side of justice (South Africa, El Salvador? Saudi Arabia?)
- Other?

1. Why it is important for Cambridge to be on the right side of this issue.

Personal emails matter. Make yours short and to the point (four to six sentences). Mention that (in your own words if possible), it is important to you that the city councilors vote with their conscience, and take a stand, on the issue to be discussed on the 23rd. Don't mention "resolution" in the email for now.

Finally, if possible, add your address and phone number at the end of the email to highlight that you live in Cambridge.

Send your emails to:
Marc C. McGovern: mmcgovern@cambridgema.gov
Jan Devereux: jdevereux@cambridgema.gov
Dennis J. Carlone: dcarlone@cambridgema.gov
E. Denise Simmons: dsimmons@cambridgema.gov

This resolution would require the City of Cambridge to stop purchasing from Hewlett Packard Enterprise (HPE) and Hewlett Packard Incorporated (HP Inc) until these companies fully terminate their support for violence against and denial of rights to Palestinians, immigrants, and people targeted by the U.S. prison system.

Right now we need you to show your support for this resolution. There are lots of reasons to support it.

- Cambridge has a proud history of being on the right side of history in the struggles against South African apartheid, for justice in El Salvador and, just a few weeks ago, against human rights violations in Saudi Arabia.
- BDS is a time-honored tactic in non-violent struggles for justice. It leverages economic pressure as a means to achieve peaceful change.
- This is a matter of urgency. Hewlett Packard technology has a role in supporting Israeli attacks on peaceful demonstrators participating in the March for Return. Hewlett Packard technology is used to regulate every aspect of Palestinian lives: where they live, work, travel, move; who they marry, talk to, and are friends with. It is used to track immigrants in this country and to operate U.S. prison systems.
- This campaign targets the use of technology in enforcing discrimination and human rights violations. It is does not target one country, one group of people or one religion.

Thanks so much for your support,
Solidarity,
Jason
